PLAINTIFFS' COMPLAINT FOR PERMANENT INJUNCTION AND OTHER EQUITABLE RELIEF

Plaintiffs, the Federal Trade Commission ("FTC" or "Commission") and the Office of the Attorney General, State of Florida, Department of Legal Affairs ("State of Florida"), for their Complaint allege:

1. The FTC brings this action under Section 13(b) of the Federal Trade Commission Act ("FTC Act"), 15 U.S.C. § 53(b), and the Telemarketing and Consumer Fraud and Abuse Prevention Act ("Telemarketing Act"), 15 U.S.C. §§ 6101-6108, to obtain temporary, preliminary, and permanent injunctive relief, rescission or reformation of contracts, restitution, the refund of monies paid, disgorgement of ill-gotten monies, and other equitable relief for Defendants' acts or practices in violation of Section 5(a) of the FTC Act, 15 U.S.C. § 45(a), and the FTC's Telemarketing Sales Rule ("TSR"), 16 C.F.R. Part 310.

2. The State of Florida, by and through its Attorney General, Pamela Jo Bondi, brings this action under the Florida Deceptive and Unfair Trade Practices Act ("FDUTPA"), Chapter 501, Part II, Florida Statutes (2016), Fla. Stat. § 501.201 et seq., the Telemarketing Act, 15 U.S.C. §§ 6101-6108, and the TSR, 16 C.F.R. Part 310, to obtain temporary, preliminary, and permanent injunctive relief, rescission or reformation of contracts, consumer restitution, the refund of monies paid, disgorgement of ill-gotten monies, and other equitable relief, and reimbursement of costs and attorneys' fees for Defendants' acts or practices in violation of the FDUTPA. The State of Florida has conducted an investigation, and the head of the enforcing authority, Attorney General Pamela Jo Bondi, has determined that an enforcement action serves the public interest as required by the FDUTPA Section 501.207(2), Florida Statutes.

SUMMARY OF THE CASE

3. Since at least late 2013, Jeremy Lee Marcus, Craig Davis Smith, and Yisbet Segrea (the “Individual Defendants”), through a maze of eleven interrelated companies (the “Corporate Defendants,”¹ and collectively, “Defendants”), have engaged in a massive scheme to offer consumers phony debt relief services, including fake loans.

4. Defendants make their money either through promises of large debt consolidation loans at attractive rates, or through representations that they have taken over the servicing of consumers’ pre-existing debt relief accounts. In either instance, Defendants trick consumers into paying Defendants hundreds or thousands of dollars a month under the false pretense that Defendants will pay, settle, or obtain dismissals of consumers’ debts and improve consumers’ credit.

5. However, Defendants do not pay, settle, or obtain dismissals of consumers’ debts, nor do they improve consumers’ credit. Instead, Defendants convert consumers’ money to their own use by paying only themselves.

6. Over time, consumers learn that their debts are unpaid, their accounts are in default, and their credit scores have plummeted. Some consumers are eventually sued by their creditors, and some are forced to file bankruptcy.

7. While consumers suffer, Defendants make millions. Since at least mid-2014, Defendants have generated tens of millions of dollars from their scam.

8. In addition, the Corporate Defendants operate as a common enterprise, including sharing names and business functions to further their overall scheme. The Corporate Defendants are owned and controlled by the Individual Defendants, who run their day-to-day operations. The Corporate Defendants also share the same principal place of business – an approximately 50,000 square foot warehouse – and the common space within it. Many Corporate Defendants take turns reporting quarterly payroll for many of the approximately 150 employees that work for Defendants. Others hold themselves out to the public as providers of promised services, yet do not report any employees. The Corporate Defendants also trade funds freely and move money through their accounts, ultimately delivering tens of millions of dollars in profits from the enterprise to the Individual and Relief Defendants.²

JURISDICTION AND VENUE

9. This Court has subject matter jurisdiction pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §§ 1331, 1337(a) and 1345, and 15 U.S.C. §§ 45(a), 53(b), and 6102(c).

10. This Court has supplemental jurisdiction over the State of Florida's claims pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1367.

11. Venue is proper in this district under 28 U.S.C. § 1391(b)(1), (b)(2), (c)(1), (c)(2), and (d), and 15 U.S.C. § 53(b).

Pursuant to the authority found in the Telemarketing Act at 15 U.S.C. § 6103(a), the State of Florida is also authorized to initiate federal district court proceedings to enjoin telemarketing activities that violate the TSR, and in each such case, to obtain restitution and other compensation on behalf of Florida residents.

Although Instahelp-HAG’s articles of incorporation represent it as a non-profit corporation, Instahelp-HAG is organized to carry on business for its own profit or the profit of its members within the meaning of Section 4 of the FTC Act, 15 U.S.C. § 44. Defendant Instahelp-

HAG transacts or has transacted business in this district and throughout the United States, including in the State of Florida.

21. Defendant Helping America Group, LLC (“HAG”), formerly known as Helping America Group, Inc., is a Florida limited liability company with its principal place of business at 1410 SW 3rd Street, Pompano Beach, Florida 33069. COMMON ENTERPRISE

33. The Corporate Defendants are operating as a common enterprise while engaging in the deceptive and unlawful acts and practices alleged below. The Corporate Defendants are conducting the business practices described below through an interrelated network of companies that have common officers, managers, business functions, employees, or office locations, and that have commingled funds. Each Corporate Defendant is jointly and severally liable for the acts and practices alleged below. In addition, the Individual Defendants have formulated, directed, controlled, had the authority to control, or participated in the acts and practices of the Corporate Defendants that constitute the common enterprise.

COMMERCE

34. At all times material to this Complaint, Defendants have maintained a substantial course of trade in or affecting commerce, as “commerce” is defined in Section 4 of the FTC Act, 15 U.S.C. § 44, and as “trade or commerce” is defined in Florida Statutes Section 501.203(8).

DEFENDANTS’ BUSINESS ACTIVITIES

35. Since at least late 2013, Defendants have engaged in a plan, program, or campaign to offer purported debt consolidation loans and debt relief services throughout the United States, including in the State of Florida, when in fact they did not make such loans or provide such services. Consumers impacted by Defendants’ scheme carry significant debt and include the elderly and disabled.

Defendants’ Bogus Loan Campaign

36. In many instances, Defendants lure consumers with false promises of guaranteed, low interest rate, debt consolidation loans, when in fact they do not make such loans at all. Defendants use direct mail, Internet websites, and unsolicited telephone calls to pitch their scam.

37. Defendants’ typical mail solicitation is in the form of a personalized letter to the consumer’s home address. The letter states it is from the “Customer Approval Center” of “321LOANS,” “A NOT FOR PROFIT CORPORATION,” and suggests that a low interest rate loan for tens of thousands of dollars, “Pre-Approval – Guaranteed,” is only a phone call away:

Customer Approval Center

Approval Code: 27872048

Hours of operation: 9:00am to 5:00pm EST

Pre-Approval - Guaranteed
4% to 7% Interest Rate - Guaranteed

Available Loan Amount: $35,000
Estimated creditor balances: $28,200
Loan Approval Department: 1-855-899-8845
VISIT: <http://www.321loanshelp.com>

38. Defendants' typical letter then instructs consumers to call to receive a loan that will resolve their unsecured debts and build their credit. Defendants tell consumers they will be able to "[c]ombine all balances on [their] current alleged debt and make one easy payment with one very low interest rate:"

Dear [REDACTED]

Please call our office at 1-855-899-8845 within 7 days of receipt of this notice. After review of your alleged debt, our approval department has pre-approved you for a special purpose loan up to $35,000, and possibly more.

Your pre-approved low interest rate loan (4% to 7%) will be utilized to resolve your alleged unsecured debt and build your credit much quicker than you can on your own.

Qualified debts include: (Credit Cards, Signature Loans, Private Student loans, Accounts in Collection, Medical Bills)

- This loan is designed to help you completely eliminate your alleged unsecured debt.
- This loan is designed to help you build your credit, and allow you to re-establish your credit.
- This loan is designed to be extremely affordable to pay back on a monthly basis.

Our loans are fast, simple, and easy. Combine all balances on your current alleged debt and make one easy payment with one very low interest rate (4% to 7%).

39. Defendants have also maintained Internet websites that offer low interest rate loans to help consumers get out of debt. For example, one of Defendants' websites, www.321loans.org, has explained: "We offer low interest rate loans to people with all types of credit scores, from the very bad to the very good. We want to help you get out of debt and get back on your feet."

40. The "About Us" section of this website has further stated "321Loans: Easy, Low Interest Loans" and prominently displayed the following graphic:

AMOUNT		$PAYMENT
10,000 LOAN	FOR	$239.47/MO
25,000 LOAN	FOR	$377.14/MO
50,000 LOAN	FOR	$681.69/MO
75,000 LOAN	FOR	$870.93/MO
100,000 LOAN	FOR	$1002.03/MO

41. Another of Defendants' websites, www.321badcreditloans.com, claimed: "Regardless of your credit score, we can offer you low interest rates to help you get out of your debt."

42. Yet another of Defendants' websites, www.321financial.com, contains the following "review:"

I had about $30000 in total debt including credit cards and medical bills and a few payday loans that were just killing me each month, I was paying about 800 on the payday loans alone and Cliff at 321Financial was able to get me to a 9% interest rate on all of my debt and lower my payment to 600 a month. I couldn't be happier with the process, they were also able to get 3 removed off my credit report that was showing up negatively. Please give these [sic] a call, don't waste your time with other companies.
-Aaron O

43. When consumers call the phone number listed in the mailer, or when Defendants contact consumers through unsolicited telephone calls, Defendants lead consumers to believe that their debts will be paid off. For example, Defendants promise consumers low interest rate loans in the exact amount of their total unsecured debt, plus interest. These amounts range from $10,000 to $60,000 or more. Defendants also quote attractive monthly payments that are significantly less than what consumers are paying their creditors.

44. As an added benefit, Defendants also tell consumers they will become part of a non-profit service that works to dismiss or settle the debts. Defendants tell consumers their purported non-profit status enables them to provide the loans at such low interest rates. In addition, Defendants tell consumers that, as a non-profit, they have legal teams of attorneys who will work to get consumers' debts dismissed or settled, and a credit corrections group who will improve consumers' credit. Defendants sometimes explain that any money they earn comes from the interest rates consumers will pay, or from any difference between what consumers pay them and the debts they are able to dismiss or settle.

45. Many consumers are tens of thousands of dollars in debt and are looking to consolidate their debt at a significantly lower interest rate and reduced monthly payment. Many consumers also state that Defendants' purported non-profit status is important, as it makes Defendants and their offers appear more credible and legitimate.

46. Often, while remaining on the line, Defendants' telemarketers email consumers an electronic link to 50-75 pages of documents designed to look much like a loan agreement, including a Truth in Lending Statement and loan repayment terms. Defendants show consumers highlighted areas within the documents and ask them to simply initial and sign by clicking through those areas in order to finish processing the loan. Consumers are generally unaware that the documents contain language that contradicts representations made by the telemarketers.

47. Believing Defendants will pay their debts or get them settled or dismissed, consumers agree to have their bank accounts immediately debited for their first loan “repayment” or for a processing fee. Then, consumers continue “repaying” their loan each month through automatic bank debits ranging from $200 to $1,000 or more.

Defendants’ Account Takeover Campaign

48. In Defendants’ account takeover campaign, Defendants call consumers already enrolled with third-party debt relief providers and inform them that Defendants are taking over the servicing of their debt relief accounts. Many of these consumers have worked for years with their third-party debt relief providers and have saved money in established escrow accounts for use in negotiating with creditors. Many consumers’ escrow balances are in the thousands.

49. Defendants falsely promise they will continue to perform the same or similar debt relief services for these consumers. They instruct consumers to transfer all the money from their escrow accounts to Defendants. In addition, Defendants set up recurring monthly withdrawals from the consumers’ checking accounts ranging from $200 to $1,000 or more.

Regardless of the Campaign, Consumers Get Nothing for Their Money

50. Once hooked through Defendants’ misrepresentations, consumers often hear nothing from Defendants except, perhaps, in the form of a monthly telephone call to see how consumers are doing or through email payment reminders. With the purported loans, consumers sometimes also receive payment confirmations reinforcing the myth that consumers are repaying a debt consolidation loan. The confirmations typically specify that the “Amount Applied to Fees (if any)” is $0.00.

51. At some point, consumers typically hear from their creditors, who often inform the consumers that their bills are unpaid and their accounts are going into default. When asked, consumers' creditors often inform the consumers that Defendants have not contacted the creditors to seek to pay, settle, or dismiss the consumers' debts.

52. When consumers ask Defendants why their debts have not been paid as promised, Defendants continue to mislead consumers by stringing them along with false explanations, including that Defendants need time to validate consumers' debts or confirm payoff amounts. Defendants also insist that consumers refrain from paying their creditors.

53. When consumers demand proof of Defendants' efforts to pay, settle, or dismiss their debts, Defendants sometimes send a form letter to consumers' creditors in the consumers' own names without first ascertaining the truth of the statements in the letter. The form letter suggests the consumers will be filing bankruptcy or disputes the validity of the consumer's debts.

54. In many instances, it is not until consumers demand cancellation and a return of their money, threaten legal action, or complain to law enforcement or the Better Business Bureau that consumers finally discover Defendants intend to keep all of consumers' money, including any loan "repayments" or funds transferred from consumers' escrow accounts, as "fees." Consumers who once thought their debts would be reduced and paid are essentially told that their debts have more than doubled—not only do consumers still owe their original debts, they now learn Defendants expect an equal amount in "fees."

55. Defendants typically refuse to return consumers' money and, in many instances, threaten to report, and do report, the purported loan to credit bureaus if consumers do not continue to pay.

56. While Defendants collect millions from consumers, consumers get little to nothing in return. Defendants do not provide a debt consolidation loan and generally do not pay, settle, or obtain dismissals of consumers' debts. Nor do they improve consumers' credit. Instead, Defendants leave consumers in much worse financial positions. In many instances, Defendants bilk thousands of dollars from consumers, most of whom are already in financial distress. Some consumers are eventually sued by their creditors, and some are forced to file bankruptcy. Often, consumers' credit ratings are severely damaged.

All Corporate Defendants Are For-Profit Entities

57. Although at least four Corporate Defendants are held out as non-profit entities (FFN, 321Loans, Instahelp-HAG, and Breeze Financial), they operate for the benefit of themselves and their members.

58. By way of example:

- A. Defendants have transferred millions of dollars from the purported non-profit companies' bank accounts to for-profit companies' bank accounts.
- B. Defendants have used the assets of Corporate Defendants, including those held out as non-profit entities, to spend lavishly on themselves and their workers, including millions in real estate, tens of thousands on Rolex watches, and hundreds of thousands in withdrawals by Individual Defendant Marcus.
- C. Sales training manuals teach "The Art of the Sale" and the importance of qualifying consumers who can pay by explaining that "the more time you spend qualifying the prospect, the less time you will waste pitching unqualified people for hours only to find out they HAVE NO $$$."

Training manuals also advise, “[w]hat is MOST important and something that many salespeople miss when they go into a call wanting to create value, they forget the goal is to make a sale . . . So remember your ABC’s – Always Be Closing!”

59. Any representations that debt relief services are offered or provided by a non-profit entity are false.

VIOLATIONS OF THE FTC ACT

60. Section 5(a) of the FTC Act, 15 U.S.C. § 45(a), prohibits “unfair or deceptive acts or practices in or affecting commerce.”

61. Misrepresentations or deceptive omissions of material fact constitute deceptive acts or practices prohibited by Section 5(a) of the FTC Act.

COUNT I

Misrepresentations in Violation of Section 5(a) (By Plaintiff FTC)

62. In numerous instances in connection with the advertising, marketing, promotion, offering for sale, or sale of debt relief programs or services, Defendants have represented, directly or indirectly, expressly or by implication, that:

- A. Defendants will provide consumers a low interest rate loan to pay off consumers’ unsecured debts;
- B. Defendants will negotiate, settle, or alter the terms of payment or other terms of consumers’ unsecured debts to reduce the balance, interest rate, or fees owed to a creditor or debt collector;
- C. Defendants will otherwise eliminate consumers’ unsecured debts;

D. The debt relief program or service is offered or provided by a non-profit entity; and

E. The debt relief program or service will improve consumers' creditworthiness.

63. In truth and in fact, the representations set forth in Paragraph 62 of this complaint were false or not substantiated at the time the representations were made.

64. Therefore, Defendants' representations as set forth in Paragraph 62 of this Complaint are false and misleading and constitute deceptive acts or practices in violation of Section 5(a) of the FTC Act, 15 U.S.C. § 45(a).

VIOLATIONS OF THE TELEMARKEING SALES RULE

65. Congress directed the FTC to proscribe rules prohibiting abusive and deceptive telemarketing acts or practices pursuant to the Telemarketing Act, 15 U.S.C. §§ 6101-6108. The FTC adopted the original TSR in 1995, extensively amended it in 2003, and amended certain provisions thereafter. 16 C.F.R. Part 310.

66. Defendants are "seller[s]" or "telemarketer[s]" engaged in "telemarketing" as defined by the TSR, 16 C.F.R. § 310.2(dd), (ff), and (gg). A "seller" means any person who, in connection with a telemarketing transaction, provides, offers to provide, or arranges for others to provide goods or services to a customer in exchange for consideration. 16 C.F.R. § 310.2(dd). A "telemarketer" means any person who, in connection with telemarketing, initiates or receives telephone calls to or from a customer or donor. 16 C.F.R. § 310.2(ff). "Telemarketing" means a plan, program, or campaign which is conducted to induce the purchase of goods or services or a charitable contribution, by use of one or more telephones and which involves more than one interstate telephone call. 16 C.F.R. § 310.2(gg).

67. Defendants are sellers or telemarketers of “debt relief services” as defined by the TSR, 16 C.F.R § 310.2(o). Under the TSR, a “debt relief service” means any program or service represented, directly or by implication, to renegotiate, settle, or in any way alter the terms of payment or other terms of the debt between a person and one or more unsecured creditors or debt collectors, including, but not limited to, a reduction in the balance, interest rate, or fees owed by a person to an unsecured creditor or debt collector.

16 C.F.R § 310.2(o).

68. The TSR prohibits sellers and telemarketers from misrepresenting, directly or by implication, any material aspect of any debt relief service, including, but not limited to, the effect of the service on a consumer’s creditworthiness, and whether a debt relief service is offered or provided by a non-profit entity. 16 C.F.R. § 310.3(a)(2)(x).

69. The TSR also prohibits sellers and telemarketers from requesting or receiving payment of any fee or consideration for any debt relief service until and unless:

- A. The seller or telemarketer has renegotiated, settled, reduced, or otherwise altered the terms of at least one debt pursuant to a settlement agreement, debt management plan, or other such valid contractual agreement executed by the customer;
- B. The customer has made at least one payment pursuant to that settlement agreement, debt management plan, or other valid contractual agreement between the customer and the creditor or debt collector; and
- C. To the extent that debts enrolled in a service are renegotiated, settled, reduced, or otherwise altered individually, the fee or consideration either:
 - i. Bears the same proportional relationship to the total fee for renegotiating, settling, reducing, or altering the terms of the entire debt balance as the individual debt amount bears to the entire debt amount. The individual debt amount and the entire debt amount are those owed at the time the debt was enrolled in the service; or

- ii. Is a percentage of the amount saved as a result of the renegotiation, settlement, reduction, or alteration. The percentage charged cannot change from one individual debt to another. The amount saved is the difference between the amount owed at the time the debt was enrolled in the service and the amount actually paid to satisfy the debt.

16 C.F.R. § 310.4(a)(5)(i).

70. Pursuant to Section 3(c) of the Telemarketing Act, 15 U.S.C. § 6102(c), and Section 18(d)(3) of the FTC Act, 15 U.S.C. § 57a(d)(3), a violation of the TSR constitutes an unfair or deceptive act or practice in or affecting commerce, in violation of section 5(a) of the FTC Act, 15 U.S.C. § 45(a).

71. Section 510.203(3), Florida Statutes, establishes that a violation of the FDUTPA may be based upon any of the following: (a) any rules promulgated pursuant to the FTC Act; (b) the standards of unfairness and deception set forth and interpreted by the FTC or the federal courts; or (c) any law, statute, rule, regulation or ordinance which proscribes unfair methods of competition, or unfair, deceptive, or unconscionable acts or practices. Therefore, Defendants' failure to comply with the TSR, as set forth below, constitute per se violations of the FDUTPA.

COUNT II

Misrepresentations About Debt Relief Services
(By Both Plaintiffs)

72. In numerous instances, in connection with the telemarketing of debt relief programs or services, Defendants have misrepresented, directly or indirectly, expressly or by implication, material aspects of debt relief services, including but not limited to:

- A. That Defendants will pay off or otherwise eliminate consumers' unsecured debts;
- B. That Defendants will negotiate, settle, or alter the terms of payment or other terms of consumers' unsecured debts to reduce the balance, interest rate, or fees owed to a creditor or debt collector;
- C. The effect of the service on a consumer's creditworthiness; and
- D. That the debt relief service is offered or provided by a non-profit entity.

73. Defendants' acts and practices, as described in Paragraph 72 of this Complaint, are deceptive telemarketing acts or practices that violate Section 310.3(a)(2)(x) of the TSR, 16 C.F.R. § 310.3(a)(2)(x).

COUNT III

Advance Fee for Debt Relief Services
(By Both Plaintiffs)

74. In numerous instances in connection with the telemarketing of debt relief programs or services, Defendants have requested or received payment of a fee or consideration for debt relief services before:

- A. Defendants have renegotiated, settled, reduced, or otherwise altered the terms of at least one debt pursuant to a settlement agreement, debt management plan, or other such valid contractual agreement executed by the customer; and

- B. The customer has made at least one payment pursuant to that settlement agreement, debt management plan, or other valid contractual agreement between the customer and the creditor.

75. Defendants' acts and practices, as described in Paragraph 74 of this Complaint, are deceptive telemarketing acts or practices that violate Section 310.4(a)(5)(i) of the TSR, 16 C.F.R. § 310.4(a)(5)(i).

VIOLATIONS OF THE FLORIDA UNFAIR AND DECEPTIVE TRADE PRACTICES ACT

COUNT IV
(By Plaintiff State of Florida)

76. As set forth in Paragraphs 1 through 59 above, which allegations are incorporated as if set forth herein, Defendants have committed acts and practices that are unfair or deceptive in violation of the FDUTPA.

77. Section 501.204(1), Florida Statutes, declares that "unfair or deceptive acts or practices in the conduct of any trade or commerce are hereby declared unlawful."

78. In the course of Defendants' trade or commerce, Defendants have committed acts or practices that are unfair or deceptive in violation of the FDUTPA, including making false or misleading representations, directly or indirectly, expressly or by implication, in connection with the advertising, marketing, promotion, offering for sale, or sale of debt relief programs or services, including, but not limited to, that:

- A. Defendants will provide consumers a low interest rate loan to pay off consumers' unsecured debts;

- B. Defendants will negotiate, settle, or alter the terms of payment or other terms of consumers' unsecured debts to reduce the balance, interest rate, or fees owed to a creditor or debt collector;
- C. Defendants will otherwise eliminate consumers' unsecured debts;
- D. The debt relief program or service is offered or provided by a non-profit entity; and
- E. The debt relief program or service will improve consumers' creditworthiness.

79. In truth and in fact, in numerous instances, such representations were false or unsubstantiated at the time the representations were made.

80. The Individual Defendants are personally liable for the unlawful acts and practices of the Corporate Defendants, as each of the Individual Defendants has the authority and power to control or direct the conduct at issue herein and/or actually participated in and directed the conduct at issue herein.

81. The acts and practices of the Defendants as set forth herein are misleading or deceptive and likely to mislead consumers acting reasonably, and consumers within the State of Florida and elsewhere were actually misled by the acts and practices of the Defendants recited herein.

RELIEF DEFENDANTS

COUNT V
(By Both Plaintiffs)

82. The Florida, Delaware, Nevada, and Illinois Relief Defendants ("Relief Defendants") have received, directly or indirectly, assets from Defendants that are traceable to the deceptive acts or practices described herein.

83. Relief Defendants have no legitimate claim to such assets, and Relief Defendants would be unjustly enriched if they are not required to disgorge the assets or the value of the benefit they received as a result of Defendants' deceptive acts or practices.

84. By reason of the foregoing, Relief Defendants hold assets in constructive trust for the benefit of Defendants' consumers.

CONSUMER INJURY

85. Consumers have suffered and will continue to suffer substantial injury as a result of Defendants' violations of the FTC Act, the TSR, and the FDUTPA. In addition, Defendants have been unjustly enriched as a result of their unlawful acts or practices. Absent injunctive relief by this Court, Defendants are likely to continue to injure consumers, reap unjust enrichment, and harm the public interest.

THE COURT'S POWER TO GRANT RELIEF

86. Section 13(b) of the FTC Act, 15 U.S.C. § 53(b), empowers this Court to grant injunctive and such other relief as the Court may deem appropriate to halt and redress violations of any provision of law enforced by the FTC. The Court, in the exercise of its equitable jurisdiction, may award ancillary relief, including rescission or reformation of contracts, restitution, the refund of monies paid, and the disgorgement of ill-gotten monies, to prevent and remedy any violation of any provision of law enforced by the FTC.

87. Section 6(b) of the Telemarketing Act, 15 U.S.C. § 6105(b), authorizes this Court to grant such relief as the Court finds necessary to redress injury to consumers resulting from Defendants' violations of the TSR, including the rescission or reformation of contracts, and the refund of money.

88. Section 4(a) of the Telemarketing Act, 15 U.S.C. § 6103(a), empowers this Court to grant the State of Florida injunctive and such other relief as the Court may deem appropriate to halt violations of the TSR and to redress injury to consumers, including the award of restitution and other compensation.

89. Pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1367, this Court has supplemental jurisdiction to allow Plaintiff State of Florida to enforce its state law claims against Defendants in this Court for violations of the FDUTPA. Florida Statutes Section 501.207 authorizes this Court to grant such relief as the Court finds necessary to redress injury to consumers resulting from Defendants' violations of the FDUTPA, including injunctive relief, rescission or reformation of contract, restitution, the refund of monies paid, and the disgorgement of ill-gotten monies.

PRAYER FOR RELIEF

90. Wherefore, Plaintiff FTC, pursuant to Section 13(b) of the FTC Act, 15 U.S.C. § 53(b), Section 6(b) of the Telemarketing Act, 15 U.S.C. § 6105(b), and the Court's own equitable powers; and Plaintiff State of Florida, pursuant to Section 4(a) of the Telemarketing Act, 15 U.S.C. § 6103(a), Florida Statutes §§ 501.207 and 501.2105, and as authorized by the Court's own equitable powers, request that the Court:

A. Award Plaintiffs such preliminary injunctive and ancillary relief as may be necessary to avert the likelihood of consumer injury during the pendency of this action and to preserve the possibility of effective final relief, including but not limited to, temporary and preliminary injunctions, an order freezing assets, immediate access, and appointment of a receiver;

B. Enter a permanent injunction to prevent future violations of the FTC Act, the TSR, and the FDUTPA by Defendants;

C. Award such relief as the Court finds necessary to redress injury to consumers resulting from Defendants' violations of the FTC Act, the TSR, and the FDUTPA, including but not limited to, rescission or reformation of contracts, restitution, the refund of monies paid, and the disgorgement of ill-gotten monies; and

D. Award Plaintiff FTC the costs of bringing this action and Plaintiff State of Florida its attorneys' fees and costs in bringing this action, as well as such other and additional relief as the Court may determine to be just and proper.

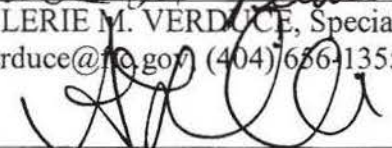

Dated: May 8, 2017.
